Dear Ripple Hiring Team,

Strong DEI work lives in the details—the ERG calendars, the summit logistics, the steady coordination across leaders and communities, and the data that shows whether any of it is landing. That's the work I love, and it's why this Program Manager, DEI role drew me in: the chance to own inclusion programs end-to-end and partner with people across the org to make them real.

DEI and inclusive leadership have run through my work from the start. At Vestas Wind Systems, I initiated a DEI pilot with an Inclusive Leadership workshop for 12 senior leaders that scaled to 23 global locations, and spearheaded an HR-award-winning engagement communications strategy. At NextGen Healthcare, I consulted on DEI, inclusive leadership, and performance review, and analyzed 2,000+ employee experiences to guide C-suite decisions on engagement. And in my current role at InGenius Prep, I manage the lifecycle of 20+ programs and 10+ vendors, run needs assessments with 25+ stakeholders, and facilitate live sessions for 600+ participants—so coordinating programs, events, and the people behind them is exactly my wheelhouse.

What ties it together is a people-first, data-grounded approach rooted in my background in organizational psychology (MS, USC): I use stakeholder partnership and data to understand what communities actually need, I build programs that fit, and I keep measuring whether they're working. I'd be honored to bring that to Ripple's DEI team—supporting your ERGs, summit, and inclusion initiatives.

Warmly,

Jamie Cheng
