Dear Samsara Hiring Team,

Great coordination isn't just about keeping a calendar—from my experience, it's about being the reliable center of a complex operation: anticipating contingencies, communicating clearly across stakeholders, and improving the process so it runs smoother next time. With a background in program logistics, recruiting, and stakeholder communication, I'm excited to bring that organized, detail-driven approach to Samsara as a Recruiting Coordinator.

At InGenius Prep, I manage high-complexity coordination, logistics, and scheduling for 20+ programs alongside cross-functional teams and remote staff. I'm the primary point of contact for stakeholders, and I rely on polished written and verbal communication to keep everyone aligned. Just as important, I built the processes and documentation for 70+ staff that cut onboarding time by 75%—because I don't just execute tasks, I look for the process improvement underneath them. My supervisor once called me the most organized person he's ever worked with.

At Kronos Research, I handled recruiting logistics directly: I coordinated a challenging international search, managed candidate communication, and organized recruiting events and C-suite panels reaching 230+ students. I have hands-on experience in Greenhouse, and I pick up scheduling and ATS tools quickly. At Vestas Wind Systems, I supported HR across recruiting and headcount and optimized onboarding through careful process analysis.

My approach is grounded in my MS in Applied Organizational Psychology (USC), which trained me to treat operations as a system: I diagnose with data where a process breaks down, collaborate cross-functionally on the fix, and track results to make sure they hold. As an analytical organizer with a growth mindset, the chance to deliver a polished candidate and interviewer experience at Samsara is a genuine draw. I'd love to bring this care to your Recruiting team.

Sincerely,

Jamie Cheng
