Dear Flexport Hiring Team,

People Operations isn't just about managing transactions—from my experience, it's about building the systems and relationships that make every employee lifecycle moment feel supported and seamless, through careful data tracking, proactive process improvement, and cross-functional partnership. With a background spanning global onboarding optimization, HR operations support, and employee experience programs, I'm excited to bring that same combination of operational precision and people-first mindset to Flexport as a People Operations Coordinator.

At Vestas Wind Systems, I owned the onboarding process optimization across 3 global locations—conducting gap analyses, clarifying role responsibilities, and partnering with stakeholders to make the new-hire experience consistent and efficient. Alongside that operational work, I supported the HRBP team on an M&A project, coordinating cross-functional stakeholders through a complex organizational change—giving me firsthand experience navigating the compliance and accuracy demands that come with high-stakes employee data transitions.

At InGenius Prep, I applied that same operational rigor to program coordination—developing guides and workflows for 70+ cross-functional staff that reduced onboarding time by 75%, managing 20+ programs and vendor relationships, and facilitating training webinars for 600+ participants to ensure consistent program understanding. The connective tissue of that role was exactly what People Operations requires: high-volume inquiry management, meticulous documentation, and keeping every stakeholder informed across a distributed team.

At NextGen Healthcare, I supported employee experience across 5 cross-functional projects—survey development, rewards & recognition, L&D programming, and engagement analysis—while conducting needs assessments and synthesizing 2,000+ employee experience data points into C-suite recommendations. That work reinforced my belief that great People Ops starts with accurate data and ends with employees who feel genuinely supported.

My approach is grounded in my MS in Applied Organizational Psychology (USC)—which trained me to treat operational challenges as systems: I diagnose with data, collaborate cross-functionally on solutions, and track metrics to ensure real progress. As an analytical organizer with a growth mindset, Flexport's mission to make global trade easy and the opportunity to support the people operations that enable that work are both genuine draws. I'd love to bring this methodology to your team.

Sincerely,

Jamie Cheng
